Why Trident

01 Attractive commodity exposure

- Exposure to lithium, gold, copper, silver, iron ore, and other commodities
- Natural inflation hedge, without exposure to rising operating / capital costs
- Energy transition and geopolitical events provide strong macro backdrop

02 Diversified portfolio

- Broad asset base reduces geographic & individual asset risk
- Balanced portfolio with exposure to precious, base and battery metals, and bulk / industrial materials

03 Rapidly building scale & shareholder value

- Acquired 21 assets since inception in June 2020

04 Experienced management

- Global management team with significant mining private equity / banking, operational, and commodity markets experience
- Track record of accretive deals, including monetization of select exploration stage royalties for ~2.4x return on investment

05 High returns

- Targeting mid-teen post-tax blended return on portfolio, while reducing Trident's cost of capital
- Trident's cost of debt is between 2.5%-4.5% + SOFR, providing leveraged returns

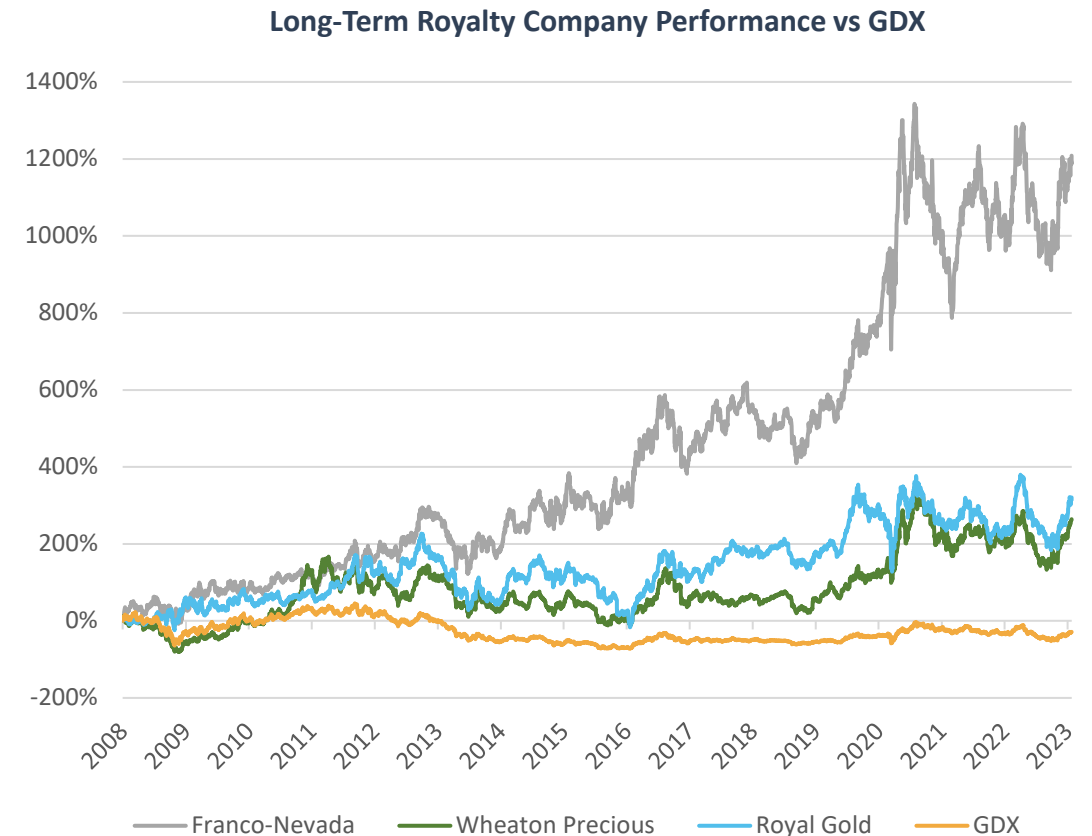

06 Driving future growth

- Extensive pipeline of future opportunities – matched by management's deal-making capability

Why royalties – superior commodity exposure

Royalties typically earn a percentage of revenue from mining operations

The Trident approach

- Royalties are an established business model: $65bn of publicly listed mining royalty vehicles²
- Trident exploiting gaps in the royalty sector:
 - Building a balanced, diversified commodity portfolio (excluding fossil fuels) – while most peers target precious metals
 - Global mandate, targeting attractive assets in resource-friendly jurisdictions

Undervalued Relative to Peers

Price to Net Asset Value Ratio

Source: S&P Capital IQ

Valuation

- Trident undervalued relative to peers
- Discount reflects historical weighting to development stage assets in portfolio
- Significant proportion of Trident's net asset value now attributable to producing assets
- Shift to producing assets to continue in short-medium term with several key assets in construction (e.g., Thacker Pass, Greenstone)
- Discount expected to unwind as assets develop and cashflow increases

1. All figures in $m, Broker risked asset NAV based on analyst consensus estimates. Royalties / payments received as at Q4 2023

Overview of offtake contracts

- Offtake contracts provide “royalty-like” exposure
- Returns driven by gold price, volatility, production profile and exploration success
- Offtake profitability increases with volatility and a rising gold price environment
- Trident has the right to acquire gold at the minimum gold price in a quotation period (6 – 8 days)
- Trident profits from difference between selected purchase price and onward sale price
- Longer Quotation Period contracts have superior returns
- Weighted average calculated margin over last 10-years of 1.33% NSR² equivalent
- Profitability increases with gold price movements, higher production profile and exploration success
- Gold deliveries continue to ramp-up across the portfolio as assets execute on expansions and/or production ramp-ups

Historical Calculated Offtake Margins (NSR Equivalents)¹

1. Actual average NSR margin calculated as realized margin per month divided by average gold price during that month

2. NSR equivalent calculated by calculating the difference between the closing daily spot gold price and the minimum closing gold price across the QP period and dividing the margin by the daily spot gold price over the last 10 years
